APPLICATIONS are invited from candidates with "war service" possessing the requisite qualifications for reserved vacancies in the Indian Civil Service, Indian Police, Burma Civil Service (Class I), Burma Police (Class I) and the Burma Frontier Service. (In the case of candidates of Burman domiciled or descent preference will be given to those with war service, but candidates without war service are also eligible.) A pamphlet has been printed giving details of the recruitment arrangements, the recruitment regulations, and the conditions of service. For those candidates serving with the Armed Forces special arrangements have been made to supply them with copies of the pamphlet through their units. Qualified candidates not in the forces can obtain a copy of the pamphlet by application to the Secretary, Federal Public Service Commission, 10, Underhill Lane, Delhi; and also a copy of the prescribed application form. Officers released for service with the civil administration under Special India Army Order No. 12/S/44 who desire to compete for permanent appointment in any of the above Services must apply in the same way as "war service" candidates generally. The qualifications required of intending candidates are broadly speaking as follows. (Full details will be found in the pamphlet). Age. A candidate must have been born on or after August 2nd, 1915 (or August 2nd, 1917, in the case of the Indian Police and the Burma Police) and must have attained the age of 21 (or 19 in the case of the Indian Police and the Burma Police). Education. Candidates educated predominantly in the United Kingdom must have received whole-time, continuous and systematic education up to the age of 18 or the date of joining His Majesty's Forces or the Merchant Navy or Mercantile Marine whichever is earlier and if a candidate for the Indian Civil Service, Burma Civil Service or the Burma Frontier Service, must have reached a standard which qualifies him for admission to a university, or if a candidate for the Indian Police or the Burma Police, must have passed the School Certificate or equivalent examination. Candidates educated predominantly in India must, if a candidate for the Indian Police, have passed the Intermediate or equivalent examination; and, if a candidate for the Indian Civil Service, have obtained a degree of an approved university but this requirement may be relaxed in favour of a candidate who has passed the Intermediate or equivalent examination if the Federal Public Service Commission is satisfied that but for his having undertaken "war service", he would have continued his education and might have been expected to obtain a degree. Candidates for the Burma Services educated predominantly in India or Burma must have passed the Intermediate Examination of an Indian University or of the Rangoon University, or have obtained the Cambridge Senior School Certificate, provided that this requirement may be relaxed if a candidate can show to the satisfaction of the Secretary of State for Burma that he was prevented by the invasion of Burma from obtaining the required qualification. War Service. In respect of candidates resident in India or Burma during the war, whole-time service of the following kind has been recognised as "war service":—(i) service of any kind in a unit or formation liable for service overseas or in any operational area; (ii) service in India or Burma under military, munitions or stores authorities with a liability to serve overseas or in any operational area; (iii) service involving subjection to Naval, Military or Air Force Law; (iv) a period of training with a military unit or formation involving liability to serve overseas or in any operational area; (v) service in recognised Civil Defence organisations; and (vi) any service connected with the prosecution of the war which a person is required to undertake by competent authority under provision of any law for the time being in force. [Assent of the Governor was first published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 14th June, 1945.]

An Act to amend the Bengal Motor Spirit Sales Taxation Act, 1941.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Bengal Motor Spirit Sales Taxation Act, 1941, for the purpose and in the manner hereinafter appearing; Ben. Act V of 1941.

AND WHEREAS by the Proclamation, dated the 31st day of March, 1945, issued under section 93 of the Government of India Act, 1935, the Governor of Bengal has assumed to himself all powers vested by or under the said Act in the Provincial Legislature;

NOTIFICATION.

No. 745L.—8th June 1945.—The following statement of the reasons which have moved the Governor of Bengal to enact the Bengal Motor Spirit Sales Taxation (Amendment) Act, 1945, in exercise of the powers assumed to himself by the Proclamation, dated the 31st day of March 1945, issued under section 93 of the Government of India Act, 1935, is published for general information:—

Statement.

The Bengal Budget for the financial year 1945-46, shows a considerable excess of estimated expenditure over estimated income, and it is necessary that every reasonable expedient be adopted to effect a reduction of this excess. The Motor Spirit Sales Taxation Act, 1941, authorizes the levy of a tax at the rate of one anna and six pies per gallon on all retail sales of motor spirit. The rate is now raised from one anna and six pies to three annas per gallon. The dealer's price has recently been reduced by one anna and six pies per gallon. The net result of the increase in taxation would be that consumers will have to pay the same price which they were accustomed to pay prior to the reduction in the dealer's price. The increase of taxation will not affect the ordinary civilian motorist to any considerable extent in view of the continuance of motor spirit rationing.

or to make decrees of dissolution of marriage except where the parties to the marriage are domiciled in India at the time when the petition is presented, or to make decrees of nullity of marriage except where the marriage has been solemnized in India and the petitioner is resident in India at the time of presenting the petition, or to grant any relief under this Act, other than a decree of dissolution of marriage or of nullity of marriage, except where the petitioner resides in India at the time of presenting the petition.

(5) "Property" includes, in the case of a wife, any property to which she is entitled for an estate in remainder or reversion, or as a trustee, executrix or administratrix; and the date of the death of the testator or intestate shall be deemed to be the time at which any such wife becomes entitled as executrix or administratrix.

4. Matrimonial jurisdiction of High Courts to be exercised subject to Act. Exception.—The jurisdiction now exercised by the High Courts in respect of divorce a mensa et toro, and in all other causes, suits and matters matrimonial shall be exercised by such Courts and by the District Courts subject to the provisions in this Act contained, and not otherwise: except so far as relates to the granting of marriage-licenses, which may be granted as if this Act had not been passed.

5. Enforcement of decrees or orders made heretofore by Supreme or High Court.—Any decree or order of the late Supreme Court of Judicature at Calcutta, Madras or Bombay sitting on the ecclesiastical side, or of any of the said High Courts sitting in the exercise of their matrimonial jurisdiction, respectively, in any cause or matter matrimonial, may be enforced and dealt with by the said High Courts, respectively, as hereinafter mentioned, in like manner as if such decree or order had been originally made under this Act by the Court so enforcing or dealing with the same.

6. Pending suits.—All suits and proceedings in causes and matters matrimonial, which when this Act comes into operation are pending in any High Court, shall be dealt with and decided by such Court, so far as may be, as if they had been originally instituted therein under this Act.

7. Court to act on principles of English Divorce Court.—Subject to the provisions contained in this Act, the High Courts and District Courts shall, in all suits and proceedings hereunder, act and give relief on principles and rules which, in the opinion of the said Courts, are as nearly as may be conformable to the principles and rules on which the Court for Divorce and Matrimonial Causes in England for the time being acts and gives relief:

Provided that nothing in this section shall deprive the said Courts of jurisdiction in a case where the parties to a marriage professed the Christian religion at the time of the occurrance of the facts on which the claim to relief is founded.

8. Extraordinary jurisdiction of High Court.—The High Court may, whenever it thinks fit, remove and try and determine as a Court of original jurisdiction, any suit or proceeding instituted under this Act in the Court of any District Judge within the limits of its jurisdiction under this Act.

Power to transfer suits.—The High Court may also withdraw any such suit or proceeding, and transfer it for trial or disposal to the Court of any other such District Judge.

9. Reference to High Court.—When any question of law or usage having the force of law arises at any point in the proceedings previous to the hearing of any suit under this Act by a District Court or at any subsequent stage of such suit, or in the execution of the decree therein or order thereon, the Court may, either of its own motion or on the application of any of the parties draw up a statement of the case and refer it, with the Court's own opinion thereon, to the decision of the High Court.

If the question has arisen previous to or in the hearing, the District Court may either stay such proceedings, or proceed in the case pending such reference and pass a decree contingent upon the opinion of the High Court upon it.

If a decree or order has been made, its execution shall be stayed until the receipt of the order of the High Court upon such reference.

10. Restrictions on petitions for divorce during first three years after marriage.—(1) No petition for divorce shall be presented to a Court unless at the date of the presentation of the petition, three years have passed since the date of the marriage:

Provided that a Court may, upon application being made to it in accordance with the rules of the High Court allow a petition to be presented before three years have passed on the ground that the case is one of exceptional hardship suffered by the petitioner or of exceptional depravity on the part of the respondent; but if it appears to the Court at the hearing of the petition, that the petitioner obtained leave to present the petition by any misrepresentation or concealment of the nature of the case, the Court may, if it pronounces a decree nisi, do so subject to the condition that no application to make the decree absolute shall be made until after the expiration of three years from the date of the marriage, or may dismiss the petition, without prejudice to any petition which may be brought after the expiration of the said three years upon the same, or substantially the same, facts as those proved in support of the petition so dismissed.

(2) In determining any application under this section for leave to present a petition before the expiration of three years from the date of the marriage, the Judge shall have regard to the interests of any children of the marriage and to the question whether there is reasonable probability of a reconciliation between the parties before the expiration of the said three years.

(3) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to prohibit the presentation of a petition based upon matters which have occurred before the expiration of three years from the date of the marriage.

11. Grounds of petition for divorce.—A petition for divorce may be presented to a Court either by the husband or the wife on the ground that the respondent—

(a) has since the celebration of the marriage committed adultery; or

(b) has deserted the petitioner without cause for a period of at least three years immediately preceding the presentation of the petition; or

(c) has since the celebration of the marriage treated the petitioner with cruelty; or

(d) is incurably of unsound mind and has been continuously under care and treatment for a period of at least five years immediately preceding the presentation of the petition; and by the wife on the ground that her husband has, since the celebration of the marriage, been guilty of rape, sodomy or bestiality.

12. Definition of "care and treatment" in relation to insanity.—For the purposes of section 11, a person of unsound mind shall be deemed to be under care and treatment while he is detained in pursuance of any order or inquisition under the Indian Lunacy Act, 1912, and not otherwise.

13. Provision as to making adulterer co-respondent.—(1) On a petition for divorce presented by the husband or in the answer of a husband praying for divorce, the petitioner or respondent, as the case may be, shall make the alleged adulterer a co-respondent unless he is excused by the Court on special grounds from so doing.

(2) On a petition for divorce presented by the wife, the Court may, if it thinks fit, direct that the person with whom the husband is alleged to have committed adultery be made a respondent.

14. Duty of Court on presentation of petition for divorce.—(1) On a petition for divorce, it shall be the duty of the Court to inquire, so far as it reasonably can, into the facts alleged and whether there has been any connivance or condonation on the part of the petitioner and whether any collusion exists between the parties and also to inquire into any countercharge which is made against the petitioner.

(2) If the Court is satisfied on the evidence that—

(i) the case for the petition has been proved; and

(ii) where the ground of the petition is adultery, the petitioner has not in any manner been accessory to, or connived at, or condoned the adultery, or where the ground of the petition is cruelty the petitioner has not in any manner condoned the cruelty; and

(iii) the petition is not presented or prosecuted in collusion with the respondent or either of the respondents;

the Court shall pronounce a decree of divorce, but if the Court is not satisfied with respect to any of the aforesaid matters, it shall dismiss the petition;

Provided that the Court shall not be bound to pronounce a decree of divorce and may dismiss the petition, if it finds that the petitioner has during the marriage been guilty of adultery or if, in the opinion of the Court, the petitioner has been guilty—

(a) of unreasonable delay in presenting or prosecuting the petition; or

(b) of cruelty towards the other party to the marriage; or

(c) where the ground of the petition is adultery or cruelty, of having without reasonable excuse deserted, or having without reasonable excuse wilfully separated himself or herself from, the other party before the adultery or cruelty complained of; or

(d) where the ground of the petition is adultery or unsoundness of mind or desertion, of such wilful neglect or misconduct as has conduced to the adultery or unsoundness of mind or desertion.

15. Dismissal of respondent or co-respondent from proceedings.—In any case in which, on the petition of a husband for divorce, the alleged adulterer is made a co-respondent or in which, on the petition of a wife for divorce, the person with whom the husband is alleged to have committed adultery is made a respondent, the Court may, after the close of the evidence on the part of the petitioner, direct the co-respondent or the respondent, as the case may be, to be dismissed from the proceedings, if the Court is of opinion that there is not sufficient evidence against him or her.

16. Relief to respondent on petition for divorce.—If in any proceedings for divorce, the respondent opposes the relief sought, in the case of proceedings instituted by the husband, on the ground of his adultery, cruelty or desertion or, in the case of proceedings instituted by the wife, on the ground of her adultery, cruelty or desertion, the Court may give to the respondent the same relief to which he or she would have been entitled if he or she had presented a petition seeking such relief.

17. Decree nisi for divorce or nullity of marriage.—(1) Every decree for divorce or for nullity of marriage shall, in the first instance, be a decree nisi not to be made absolute until after the expiration of six months from the pronouncing thereof, unless the court by general or special order from time to time fixes a shorter time.

(2) After the pronouncing of the decree nisi and before the decree is made absolute, any person may, in the prescribed manner, show cause why the decree should not be made absolute by reason of the decree having been obtained by collusion or by reason of material facts not having been brought before the court, and in any such case the court may make the decree absolute, reverse the decree nisi, require further inquiry or otherwise deal with the case as the court thinks fit.

(3) Prevention of delay in application for decree absolute.—Where a decree nisi has been obtained, whether before or after the passing of this Act, and no application for the decree to be made absolute has been made by the party who obtained the decree, then at any time after the expiration of three months from the earliest date on which that party could have made such an application, the party against whom the decree nisi has been granted shall be at liberty to apply to the court and the court shall, on such application, have power to make the decree absolute, reverse the decree nisi, require further inquiry or otherwise deal with the case as the court thinks fit.

18. Confirmation of decree for dissolution by District Judge.—Every decree for a dissolution of marriage made by a District Judge shall be subject to confirmation by the High Court:

Provided that no decree shall be confirmed under this section till after the expiration of such time, not less than six months from the pronouncing thereof, as the High Court by general or special order from time to time directs.

During the progres of the suit in the Court of the District Judge, any persons, suspecting that any parties to the suit are or have been acting in collusion for the purpose of obtaining a divorce, shall be at liberty, in such manner as the High Court by general or special order from time to time directs, to apply to the High Court to remove the suit under Section 8, and the High Court shall thereupon, if it thinks fit, remove such suit and try and determine the same as a Court of original jurisdiction, and the provisions contained in Section 17 shall apply to every suit so removed; or it may direct the District Judge to take such steps in respect of the alleged collusion as may be necessary to enable him to make a decree in accordance with the justice of the case.

19. Appointment of officer to exercise duties of King's Proctor.—The Provincial Government of any Province within which any High Court established by Letters Patent exercises jurisdiction, may appoint an officer who shall, within the jurisdiction of the High Court in that Province, have the like right of showing cause why a decree for the dissolution of a marriage should not be made absolute or should not be confirmed, as the case may be, as is exercisable in England by the King's Proctor; and the said Government may make rules regulating the manner in which the right shall be exercised and all matters incidental to or consequential on any exercise of the right.

In relation to the jurisdiction of any such High Court as aforesaid in an Indian State this section shall have effect as if the reference to the Provincial Government was a reference to the Central Government.

20. Grounds for decree of nullity.—(1) In addition to any other grounds on which a marriage is by law void or voidable, a marriage shall be voidable on the ground—

(a) that the marriage has no been consummated owing to the wilful refusal of the respondent to consummate the marriage; or

(b) that either party to the marriage was at the time of the marriage of unsound mind or a mental defective or subject to recurrent fits of insanity or epilepsy; or

(c) that the respondent was at the time of marriage suffering from venereal disease in a communicable form; or

(d) that the respondent was at the time of the marriage pregnant by some person other than the petitioner:

Provided that, in the cases specified in paragraphs (b), (c) and (d) of this sub-section, the court shall not grant a decree unless it is satisfied—

(i) that the petitioner was at the time of the marriage ignorant of the facts alleged;

(ii) that proceedings were instituted within a year from the date of the marriage; and

(iii) that marital intercourse with the consent of the petitioner has not taken place since the discovery by the petitioner of the existence of the grounds for a decree.

(2) Any child born of a marriage avoided pursuant to paragraph (b) or (c) of the last foregoing sub-section shall be a legitimate child of the parties thereto notwithstanding that the marriage is so avoided.

(3) Nothing in this section shall be construed as validating any marriage which is by law void, but with respect to which a decree of nullity has not been granted.

21. Confirmation of District Judge's decree.—Every decree of nullity of marriage made by a District Judge shall be subject to confirmation by the High Court, and the provisions of Section 18, shall, mutatis mutandis, apply in such decrees.

22. Proceedings for decree of presumption of death and dissolution of marriage.—(1) Any married person who alleges that reasonable grounds exist for supposing that the other party to the marriage is dead may present a petition to the court to have it presumed that the other party is dead and to have the marriage dissloved, and the court, if satisfied that such reasonable grounds exist, may make a decree of presumption of death and of dissolution of the marriage.

(2) In any such proceedings the fact that for a period of seven years or upwards the other party to the marriage has been continually absent from the petitioner, and the petitioner has no reason to believe that the other party has been living within that time, shall be evidence that he or she is dead until the contrary is proved.

(3) Sections 17, 19 and 43 shall apply to a petition and a decree under this section as they apply to a petition for divorce and a decree of divorce respectively.

23. Decree of judicial separation.—(1) A petition for judicial separation may be presented to the court either by the husband or the wife on any grounds on which a petition for divorce might have been presented, or on the ground of failure to comply with a decree for restitution of conjugal rights or on any ground on which a decree for divorce a mensâ et toro might have been pronounced and the foregoing provisions of this part of this Act relating to the duty of the court on the presentation of a petition for divorce and the circumstances in which such a petition shall or may be granted or dismissed, shall apply in like manner to a petition for judicial separation.

(2) Where the court in accordance with the said provisions grants a decree of judicial separation, it shall no longer be obligatory for the petitioner to cohabit with the respondent.

(3) The court may, on the application by petition of the husband or wife against whom a decree for judicial separation has been made, and on being satisfied that the allegations contained in the petition are true, reverse the decree at any time after the making thereof, on the ground that is was obtained in the absence of the person making the application, or, if desertion was the ground of the decree, that there was reasonable cause for the alleged desertion.

(4) The reversal of a decree for judicial separation shall not affect the rights or remedies which any other person would have had if the decree had not been reversed in respect of any debts, contracts or acts of the wife incurred, entered into or done between the date of the decree and of the reversal thereof.

24. Separated wife deemed spinster with respect to after-acquired property.—In every case of a judicial separation under this Act, the wife shall, from the date of the decree and whilst the separation continues, be considered as unmarried with respect to property of every description which she may acquire, or which may come to or devolve upon her.

Such property may be disposed of by her in all respects as an unmarried woman, and on her decease the same shall, in case she dies intestate, go as the same would have gone if her husband had been then dead:

Provided that, if any such wife, again cohabits with her husband, all such property as she may be entitled to when such cohabitation takes place shall be held to her separate use, subject, however, to any agreement in writing made between herself and her husband whilst separate.

25. Separated wife deemed spinster for purposes of contract and suing.—In every case of a judicial separation under this Act, the wife shall whilst so separated, be considered as an unmarried woman for the purposes of contract, and wrongs and injuries, and suing and being sued in any civil proceeding; and her husband shall not be liable in respect of any contract, act or costs entered into, done, omitted or incurred by her during the separation:

Provided that where, upon any such judicial separation, alimony has been decreed or ordered to be paid to the wife, and the same is not duly paid by the husband, he shall be liable for necessaries supplied for her use;

Provided also that nothing shall prevent the wife from joining at any time during such separation, in the exercise of any joint power given to herself and her husband.

26. Protection of third parties.—(1) Where a wife obtains a decree for judicial separation, the decree shall, so far as may be necessary for the protection of any person dealing with the wife, be valid and effectual until discharged, and the discharge or variation of the decree shall not affect any rights or remedies which any person would have had, if the decree had not been discharged or varied, in respect of any debts, contracts or acts of the wife incurred, entered into or done during the period between the date of the decree and the discharge or variation thereof.

(2) Any person who, in reliance on any such decree as aforesaid, makes any payment to or permits any transfer or act to be made or done by the wife, shall, notwithstanding, the subsequent discharge or variation of the decree, or the fact that the separation has ceased or has been discontinued, be protected and indemnified in the same way in all respects as if at the time of the payment, transfer or other act the decree were valid and still subsisting without variation in full force and effect, or the separation had not ceased or been discontinued, as the case may be, unless at that time that person had notice of the discharge or variation of the decree or that the separation had ceased or been discontinued.

27. Power to vary orders.—The court may from time to time vary or modify any order for the periodical payment of money made under the provisions of this Act relating to matrimonial causes and matters either by altering the times of payment or by increasing or diminishing the amount or may temporarily suspend the order as to the whole or any part of the money ordered to be paid and subsequently revive it wholly or in part, as the court thinks just.

28. Liability of husband seizing wife's property after notice of order.—If the husband, or any creditor of, or person claiming under, the husband, seizes or continues to hold any property of the wife after notice of any such order, he shall be liable, at the suit of the wife (which she is hereby empowered to bring) to return or deliver to her the specific property, and also to pay her a sum equal to double its value.

29. Wife's legal position during continuance of order.—So long as any such order of protection remains in force, the wife shall be and be deemed to have been, during such desertion of her, in the like position in all respects, with regard to property and contracts and suing and being sued, as she would be under this Act if she obtained a decree of judicial separation.

30. Decree for restitution of conjugal rights.—A petition for restitution of conjugal rights may be presented to the Court either by the husband or the wife, and the Court, on being satisfied that the allegations contained in the petition are true, and that there is no legal ground why a decree for restitution of conjugal rights should not be granted, may make the decree accordingly.

31. Periodical payments in lieu of attachment.—(1) A decree for restitution of conjugal rights shall not be enforced by attachment, but where the application is by the wife, the court, at the time of making the decree or at any time afterwards, may, in the event of the decree not being complied with within any time in that behalf limited by the Court, order the respondent to make to the petitioner such periodical payments as may be just, and the order may be enforced in the same manner as an order for alimony in proceedings for judicial separation.

(2) The court may, if it thinks fit, order that the husband shall, to the satisfaction of the court, secure to the wife the periodical payments, and for that purpose may direct that it shall be referred to one of the conveyancing counsel of the court to settle and approve a proper deed or instrument to be executed by all necessary parties.

32. Husband may claim damages from adulterer.—Any husband may, either in a petition for dissolution of marriage or for judicial separation, or in a petition to the District Court or the High Court limited to such object only, claim damages from any person on the ground of his having committed adultery with the wife of such petitioner.

Such petition shall be served on the alleged adulterer and the wife unless the Court dispenses with such service or directs some other service to be substituted.

The damages to be recovered on any such petition shall be ascertained by the said court, although the respondents or either of them may not appear.

After the decision has been given, the Court may direct in what manner such damages shall be paid or applied.

33. Power to order adulterer to pay costs.—Whenever in any petition presented by a husband, the alleged adulterer has been made a co-respondent, and the adultery has been established, the court may order the co-respondent to pay the whole or any part of the cost of the proceedings:

Provided that the co-respondent shall not be ordered to pay the petitioner's costs—

(1) if the respondent was, at the time of the adultery, living apart from her husband and leading the life of a prostitute, or

(2) if the co-respondent had not, at the time of the adultery, reason to believe the respondent to be a married woman.

Power to order litigious intervenor to pay costs.—Whenever any application is made under Section 18, the Court, if it thinks that the applicant had no grounds or no sufficient grounds for intervening, may order him to pay the whole or any part of the costs occasioned by the application.

34. Alimony.—(1) The court may, if it thinks fit, on any decree for divorce or nullity of marriage, order that the husband shall, to the satisfaction of the court, secure to the wife such gross sum of money or annual sum of money for any term, not exceeding her life as having regard to her fortune, if any, to the ability of her husband and to the conduct of parties, the court may deem to be reasonable, and the court may for that purpose order the preparation of a proper deed or instrument, to be executed by all the necessary parties, and may, if it thinks fit, suspend the pronouncing of the decree until the deed or instrument has been duly executed.

(2) In any such case as aforesaid the court may, if it thinks fit, by order, either in addition to or instead of an order under sub-section (1) of this section, direct the husband to pay to the wife during the joint lives of the husband and the wife such monthly or weekly sum for her maintenance and support as the court may think reasonable:

Provided that—

(a) if the husband, after any such order has been made, becomes from any cause unable to make the payments, the court may discharge or modify the order, or temporarily suspend the order as to the whole or any part of the money ordered to be paid, and subsequently revive it wholly or in part as the court thinks fit; and

(b) where the court has made any such order as is mentioned in this sub-section and the court is satisfied that the means of the husband have increased, the court may, if it thinks fit, increase the amount payable under the order.

(3) On any petition for divorce or nullity of marriage the court shall have the same power to make interim orders for the payment of money by way of alimony or otherwise to the wife as the court has in proceedings for judicial separation.

(4) Where any decree for restitution of conjugal rights or judicial separation is made on the application of the wife, the court may make such order for alimony as the court thinks just.

(5) In all cases where the court makes an order for alimony, the court may direct the alimony to be paid either to the wife or to a trustee approved by the court on her behalf, and may impose such terms or restrictions as the court thinks expedient, and may from time to time appoint a new trustee if for any reasons it appears to the court expedient so to do.

35. Power of court to order settlement of wife's property.—(1) If it appears to the court in any case in which the court pronounces a decree for divorce or for judicial separation by reason of the adultery, desertion or cruelty of the wife that the wife is entitled to any property either in possession or reversion the court may, if it thinks fit, order such settlement as it thinks reasonable to be made of the property, or any part thereof for the benefit of the innocent party, and of the children of the marriage or any or either of them.

Any instrument made under any order of the court made under this section shall be valid and effectual, notwithstanding the existence of coverture at the time of the execution thereof.

(2) Where the application for restitution of conjugal rights is by the husband, and it appears to the court that the wife is entitled to any property, either in possession or reversion, or is in receipt of any profits of trade or earnings, the court may, if it thinks fit, order a settlement to be made to the satisfaction of the court of the property or any part thereof for the benefit of the petitioner and of the children of the marriage or either or any of them or may order such part of the profits of trade or earnings, as the court thinks reasonable, to be periodically paid by the respondent to the petitioner for his own benefit, or to the petitioner or any other person for the benefit of the children of the marriage, or either or any of them.

36. Divorce proceedings after grant of judicial separation or other relief.—(1) A person shall not be prevented from presenting a petition for divorce, or the court from pronouncing a decree of divorce, by reason only that the petitioner has at any time been granted a judicial separation upon the same or substantially the same facts as those proved in support of the petition for divorce.

(2) On any such petition for divorce, the court may treat the decree of judicial separation or the said order as sufficient proof of the adultery, desertion, or other ground on which it was granted but the court shall not pronounce a decree of divorce without receiving evidence from the petitioner.

(3) For the purposes of any such petition for divorce, a period of desertion immediately preceding the institution of proceedings for a decree of judicial separation, if the parties have not resumed cohabitation and the decree or order has been continuously in force since the granting thereof, be deemed immediately to precede the presentation of the petition for divorce.

37. Inquiry into existence of ante-nuptial or post-nuptial settlements.—The High Court, after a decree absolute for dissolution of marriage, or a decree of nullity of marriage, and the District Court, after its decree for dissolution of marriage or of nullity of marriage has been confirmed, may inquire into the existence of ante-nuptial or post-nuptial settlements made on the parties whose marriage is the subject of the decree, and may make such orders, with reference to the application of the whole or a portion of the property settled, whether for the benefit of the husband or the wife, or of the children (if any) of the marriage, or of both children and parents, as to the court seems fit:

Provided that the Court shall not make any order for the benefit of the parents or either of them at the expense of the children.

38. Custody of children.—(1) In any proceedings for divorce or nullity of marriage or judicial separation, the court may from time to time, either before or by or after the final decree, make such provision as appears just with respect to the custody, maintenance and education of the children, the marriage of whose parents is the subject of the proceedings, or, if it things fit, direct proper proceedings to be taken for placing the children under the protection of the court.

(2) On an application made in that behalf the court may, at any time before final decree, in any proceedings for restitution of conjugal rights, or, if the respondent fails to comply therewith, after final decree, make from time to time all such orders and provisions with respect to the custody, maintenance and education of the children of the petitioner, and respondent as might have been made by interim orders if proceedings for judicial separation had been pending between the same parties.

(3) The court may, if it thinks fit, on any decree of divorce or nullity of marriage, order the husband, or (in the case of a petition for divorce by a wife on the ground of her husband's insanity) order the wife, to secure for the benefit of the children such gross sum of money or annual sum of money as the court may deem reasonable, and the court may for that purpose order that it shall be referred to one of the conveyancing counsel of the court to settle and approve a proper deed or instrument to be executed by all necessary parties:

Provided that the term for which any sum of money is secured for the benefit of a child shall not extend beyond the date when the child will attain eighteen years of age.

39. Power to make orders as to custody of children after decree or confimation.—The High Court, after a decree absolute for dissolution of marriage or a decree of nullity of marriage, and the District Court, after a decree for dissolution of marriage or of nullity of marriage, has been confirmed, may, upon application by petition for the purpose, make from time to time all such orders and provision, with respect to the custody, maintenance and education of the minor children, the marriage of whose parents was the subject, of the decree, or for placing such children under the protection of the said Court, as might have been made by such decree absolute or decree (as the case may be), or by such interim orders as aforesaid.

40. Amendments as to maintenance, settlement of property, etc.—(1) When a petition for divorce or nullity of marriage has been presented, proceedings under Sections 30, 31, 38 or sub-section (3) of Section 34 (which respectively confer power on the court to order the provision of alimony, the settlement of the wife's property, the application of property which is the subject of marriage settlements, and the securing of money for the benefit of the children) may, subject to and in accordance with rules of court, be commenced at any time after the presentation of the petition:

Provided that no order under any of the said sections or under the said sub-section (other than an interim order for the payment of alimony under Section 30) shall be made unless and until a decree nisi has been pronounced, and no such order, save in so far as it relates to the preparation, execution, or approval of a deed or instrument and no settlement made in pursuance of any such order, shall take effect unless and until the decree is made absolute.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The object of this Bill is to bring the Indian law relating to the divorce of persons professing the Christian religion into greater conformity with the English law as stated in the Matrimonial Causes Act of 1937.

The grounds of petition for divorce specified in the Bill are:—

(a) adultery,
(b) desertion without cause for 3 years,
(c) cruelty,
(d) incurable insanity,
(e) rape, sodomy, or bestiality on the part of a husband.

No petition for divorce can be presented earlier than three years from the date of the marriage. There are certain other provisions relating to decrees of judicial separation and nullity, which are intended to provide relief from hardship.

In the picturesque language of the preamble to the Matrimonial Causes Act of 1937, this Bill is promoted in the interests of "the true support of marriage, the protection of children, the removal of hardship, the reduction of illicit unions and unseemly litigation and the restoration of due respect for the law".

(1) Whoever commits an offence punishable under section 10 of the Howrah Offences Act, 1857, or under section 44 of the Calcutta Police Act, 1866 or under section 3 of the Bengal Public Gambling Act, 1867 relating to wagering or betting upon a horse-race may, in lieu of any punishment to which he is liable under the said sections, be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to three months or with fine which may extend to five thousand rupees or with both. XXI of 1857. Ben. Act IV of 1866. Ben. Act II of 1867.

(2) Whoever having been convicted for an offence specified in sub-section (1) shall be guilty of any such offence, shall, notwithstanding anything contained in the Act under the provisions of which he is so convicted, be punishable for every such subsequent offence with imprisonment for a term which may extend to one year or with fine which may extend to ten thousand rupees or with both.

Saving.

3. Notwithstanding anything contained in any other law for the time being in force, it shall be lawful for any Magistrate of the first class and for any Presidency Magistrate to pass a sentence of fine exceeding one thousand rupees on any person convicted of any offence which has been made punishable with enhanced fine by this Act.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Courts are reluctant to award a sentence of imprisonment for a first offence of illegal wagering upon a horse-race and the maximum fine admissible under the existing law cannot act as a deterrent. With the enhancement of the betting tax the temptation to illegal betting will be greatly increased and the object of this Bill is to amend the penalty provisions of the existing law with a view to make it possible for Courts to award more appropriate and deterrent penalties.

No. 782L.—14th June, 1945.—The following Bill, which the Governor of Bengal proposes to enact in exercise of the powers assumed to himself by the Proclamation, dated the 31st day of March, 1945, issued under section 93 of the Government of India Act, 1935, together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons, is published for the information of all persons likely to be affected thereby and notice is hereby given that the said Bill will be taken into consideration on or after the 5th July, 1945, and that any objection or suggestion which may be received with respect thereto from any person by the Secretary to the Government of Bengal in the Revenue Department before the said date will be considered by the Governor:—

THE BENGAL TENANCY (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1945.

A

further to amend the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, for the purposes and in the manner hereinafter appearing; VIII of 1885.

AND WHEREAS by the Proclamation, dated the 31st day of March, 1945, issued under section 93 of the Government of India Act, 1935, the Governor of Bengal has assumed to himself all powers vested by or under the said Act in the Provincial Legislature; 26 Geo. V, c. 2.

NOW, THEREFORE, in exercise of the powers so assumed to himself, the Governor of Bengal is pleased to enact as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Bengal Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1945.

Substitution of new section for section 49K of Act VIII of 1885.

2. For section 49K of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885 (hereinafter referred to as the said Act), the following section shall be substituted, namely:—

Restriction on the sale of tenant's rights under order of Court.

"49K. (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in this Act, no decree or order shall be passed by any Court for the sale of the right of an aboriginal tenure-holder, raiyat or under-raiyat in his tenure or holding, or in any portion thereof, nor shall any such right be sold in execution of any decree or order:

Provided that any tenure or holding belonging to an aboriginal may be sold in accordance with the provisions of sub-section (2) in execution of a decree of a competent Court to recover an arrear of rent which has accrued in respect of the tenure or holding.

(2) When a decree for an arrear of rent which accrued in respect of a tenure or holding of an aboriginal tenant has been passed, such decree shall be executable solely by the Collector and the Court shall, on application made in this behalf by the decree-holder, send the decree to the Collector for execution and the Collector in execution of the said decree may, in his discretion,—

(a) sell the said tenure or holding, or

(b) eject the said aboriginal tenant and settle the said tenure or holding or a portion thereof with another aboriginal tenant on payment of the decretal amount by such other aboriginal tenant, or

The Bengal Tenancy (Amendment) Bill, 1945.

(Clause 2.)

(c) place the landlord in possession of the said tenure or holding or a portion thereof for a period not exceeding seven years;

and if the Collector, in executing a decree under this sub-section,—

(i) sells the said tenure or holding, he shall, subject to the provisions of sub-section (3), follow the procedure applicable to sales of land by a Civil Court in execution of decrees for arrears of rent;

(ii) places the landlord in possession of the said tenure or holding or any portion thereof for any period, the decree shall at the end of such period be deemed to have been satisfied in full and the Collector may then restore the said tenure or holding or portion to the aboriginal tenure-holder, raiyat or under-raiyat, as the case may be, against whom the said decree was executed or to the successor in interest of such tenure-holder, raiyat or under-raiyat or may settle it with another aboriginal:

Provided that no portion of a tenure or holding shall be sold or settled by the Collector under this sub-section if such sale or settlement would result in bringing the rent for such portion below two rupees in the case of a tenure or one rupee in the case of a holding.

(3)(a) Before issuing a proclamation for the sale of any tenure or holding in execution of a decree referred to in sub-section (2), the Collector shall after hearing the decree-holder and the judgment-debtor divide the tenure or holding into such number of smaller areas to be specified as lots as the Collector thinks fit for the purpose of being sold separately and shall specify the lots in the proclamation;

(b) when any tenure or holding has been advertised for sale by the issue of a proclamation referred to in clause (a), each lot specified in the proclamation shall be put up to auction separately and as soon as the total amount of the bid reaches a sum sufficient to liquidate the amount of the decree and costs including the costs of sale, the sale shall be stopped and no further lots shall be knocked down, and if even after all the lots have been separately put up to auction the total amount of the bid does not reach a sum sufficient to liquidate the amount of the decree and costs as aforesaid, all the lots shall be put up to auction together.

(4) Before restoring or settling a tenure or holding under sub-section (2), the Collector may, if he is satisfied that the rent of the tenure or holding has been illegally enhanced or is substantially in excess of the rent payable by tenants of the same class for lands of the same description with similar advantages in the vicinity, pass an order altering the amount of the rent of the tenure or holding to an amount which he considers to be fair.

(5) Notwithstanding anything contained in this Act, where a portion of a tenure or holding is sold or settled under sub-section (2),—

(a) the Collector shall, before confirming the sale or making the settlement, distribute the rent of the tenure or holding over such portion and the remaining portion or portions of the tenure or holding and in making such distribution the Collector shall follow, as far as may be, the procedure laid down in section 88; and

(b) the division of the said tenure or holding consequent upon such sale or settlement and the distribution of the rent of such tenure or holding made under clause (a) shall, subject to the provisions of section 49M, be binding on the tenants and the landlord concerned.

(6) Nothing in this section shall affect,—

(a) any right to execute a decree for the sale of any such tenure or holding or the terms or conditions of any bona fide contract relating thereto if such decree was passed or such contract was registered—

(i) in the case of Sonthals of the districts of Birbhum, Bankura and Midnapore, before the 1st November, 1916, and

The Bengal Tenancy (Amendment) Bill, 1945.

(Clauses 3, 4.)

(ii) in the case of other castes and tribes to which this chapter has been applied, at least one year before the date of the publication of the notification under sub-section (2) of section 49A in respect of such castes or tribes, or

(b) any right for the sale of any such tenure or holding for the recovery of any dues which are recoverable as public demands."

Amendment of section 49L

3. In section 49L of the said Act, after the words "such tenancy or portion thereof" the words "other than a decree to recover an arrear of rent which has accrued in respect of such tenancy" shall be inserted.

Amendment of section 49M.

4. In section 49M of the said Act, for the word, figures and letter "or 49J" the word, figures and letters "49J or 49K" shall be substituted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Under the existing provisions of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885 only the entire tenure or holding of an aboriginal tenant can be sold in execution of a decree for arrears of rent. Such provisions are inequitable in as much as the tenant thereby loses his entire tenure or holding, which is the very means of his subsistence, although its value may be out of all proportion to the decretal amount. It is therefore considered necessary that the Act should be amended so as to make the following provisions on the lines of the Bihar Tenancy Act:—

(1) that a portion of a tenure or holding of an aboriginal tenant may be sold in execution of a rent decree, and

(2) that in execution of a rent decree the Collector may, in the alternative, eject the aboriginal tenant from his tenure or holding or a portion thereof and settle it with another aboriginal tenant on payment of the decretal amount or put the landlord in possession thereof for a period not exceeding seven years and restore the land on the termination of that period to the original tenant or settle it with another aboriginal tenant.

The Bill has been prepared with this object in view.

By order of the Governor,

G. M. RATCLIFF,

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 807L.—20th June, 1945.—The following statement of the reasons which have moved the Governor of Bengal to enact the Bengal Finance (Sales Tax) Amendment Act, 1945 in exercise of the powers assumed to himself by the Proclamation, dated the 31st day of March, 1945, issued under section 93 of the Government of India Act, 1935, is published for general information:—

RESOLUTION—No. 1026C./Edn.

Calcutta, the 18th June 1945.

Read—Government of Bengal, Education Department resolution No. 2108/Edn., dated 2nd July 1924, and Government of India, Department of Education, Health and Lands, letter No. F. 10-21/43C.A.B., together with the recommendation of the Central Advisory Board of Education, as contained in the memorandum prepared by the Educational Adviser to the Government of India, on the question of the welfare of Indian students who proceed abroad and particularly to the United Kingdom.

The Government of Bengal generally agree with the views expressed in the memorandum of the Educational Adviser to the Government of India. The authorities of the Dacca University also generally approve of the reorganisation of the existing University Students' Information Bureau at Dacca, on the lines suggested by the Central Advisory Board of Education.

2. In pursuance of that, the University of Dacca have now recommended that the Dacca University Students' Information Bureau Committee be reconstituted as follows:—

(1) The Vice-Chancellor, Dacca University, President.
(2) The Commissioner, Dacca Division.
(3) The Provost, Dacca Hall.
(4) The Provost, Salimullah Muslim Hall.
(5) The Provost, Jagannath Hall.
(6) The Provost, Fazlul Haq Muslim Hall.
(7) Dr. M. Ahmed.
(8) Dr. S. Hedayetullah.
(9) Mr. H. Ali.
(10) Dr. W. H. A. Shadani.
(11) Dr. J. K. Chowdhury.
(12) Miss Monorama Bose.
(13) Dr. A. T. Sen.
(14) Dr. A. K. Ghoshal.
(15) Dr. A. K. Das Gupta.
(16) Mr. A. H. Talukdar.
(17) Dr. P. K. De.
(18) Dr. S. R. Khastgir.
(19) Dr. K. P. Basu.
(20) Dr. A. K. Dutt.
(21) Dr. N. M. Basu.
(22) Dr. P. Maheswari.
(23) Dr. G. W. Padwick.
(24) Dr. N. U. A. Siddiqui.
(25) Mr. A. Subhan, Secretary.

3. The Government of Bengal are pleased to approve of the reconstitution of the Bureau Committee as recommendated by the University. The members will hold office for a period of two years.

4. There is reason to anticipate that a large number of applications will now be received from students desirous of proceeding abroad for various courses of study. The duties and functions of the Bureau will be in general as laid down in the Government resolution quoted above and in particular, to control the flow of such students by giving advice to them before they leave India in regard to such matters as the educational qualifications needed for admission to foreign institutions, the cost of course proposed, health questions, etc., for placing them in suitable institutions abroad.

5. Government particularly emphasise that for this purpose necessary intensive propaganda should be made by the Bureau and the University direct to enlighten the public generally and in particular the parents of boys and girls contemplating study overseas as to the minimum qualifications required for admission to foreign institutions and the amount of money required for the adequate maintenance of their children in the foreign countries selected. They should also be given as clear an idea as possible of the social, climatic and general living conditions abroad, in order that the student may go adequately prepared to face any differences from the life to which he has been accustomed in India, as well as some indication as to the precise advantages which the proposed course of study is likely to confer.

6. The necessary propaganda would be greatly assisted by the publication of informatory pamphlets in regard both to foreign Universities and to careers on similar lines to those which have been issued for some time past in Great Britain. Propaganda in pamphlet form should also be supplemented by radio and other vehicles of public propaganda. It is necessary that this propaganda should be extended to High Schools, etc., as well.

Order—Ordered that the resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette and that a copy be forwarded to the Government of India.

Ordered also that a copy be forwarded to the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, the Registrar, Dacca University, to the Publicity Department of this Government, Secretary to the Board of Intermediate and Secondary Education, Dacca, and Commissioner of Dacca Division.

By order of the Governor,
A. M. SALIMULLAH, Asst. Secy.

24. Relettering and renumbering of Act XIII of 1943.—That Delhi Muslim Wakfs Act as hitherto amended shall be relettered and renumbered.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

When the Delhi Muslim Wakf Bill, 1941, was being considered by the Joint Select Committee of the Central Legislature, several important matters based on the public opinions received on the said Bill, were placed before it, of which some were accepted and others were left out for future considerations on the practical experience of the working of the laws. Among the important omissions, the following deserve special consideration:—

1. The omission of penal clauses against the Mutawallis of the wakf is proving a very great obstacle in the progress of the initial work of the Majlis and the result is that up till now very few Mutawallis have cared to apply for registering the wakfs under their charge, although section 43(1) provides for compulsory registration of wakfs within six months of the date of publication of the first constitution of the Majlis, which was published about a year ago. The Majlis had to extend thrice the final date of registration of wakfs but to no success.

2. The second omission was the power of the Majlis to compel attendance of witnesses and production of documents as is provided in almost all the existing laws on the subject, say section 33 of the Bengal Wakfs Act, of 1934, section 46 of the U. P. Wakfs Act, 1936, section 27 of the N.-W. F. P. Wakfs Act, 1939, and section 14 of the Land Acquisition Act, 1894.

3. The third omission was to provide for a speedy realisation of arrear wakf dues. Due to Delhi Rent Control Ordinance XXV of 1944, tenants of wakfs estates have become a regular source of trouble and are withholding payments of wakfs arrear dues and the Majlis being in its infancy stands in need of adequate funds to run its office and establishment. Besides the wakfs properties were much mis-managed before the passing of the Delhi Muslim Wakfs Act, 1943, and were settled on nominal rental say, one anna, one and a quarter annas, and two annas a day. Over and above, cases of sub-letting are numerous. Hence the Majlis needs support of legislative measure to safeguard its legitimate interests. Some sections are consequently thought necessary to be added. The rest of the Bill provides clarification of some points of Muslim wakf laws, and hence this Bill.
